ALL CHANGE AT HOLIDAYS ARGYLL

Margo and Tom took over the reins of Holidays Argyll in early October from Ken & Jo Coley. As previous proprietors of Kames Hotel, no doubt some of you will remember us from previous visits and, like Jo and Ken, we also live in the village so we will be on hand to help out with anything you might need while you are here on holiday. We are really looking forward to stamping our mark on the business and taking it forward by offering the best possible holiday experience we can. We know how precious your free time is and how hard you have worked for it so we want to help make your holiday time here in the beautiful Kyles of Bute a time to remember and cherish and one you will want to repeat time and time again. We hope to expand our property portfolio on to Bute and into Kintyre, thereby giving our visitors a wider spectrum of places to see and explore. Keep your eyes out for new properties coming on to the website.

New Year and Christmas

Hogmanay in Tighnabruaich is usually a bit of a marathon if you play by the locals rules! They start around the 30th and go on to the 4th! Most of us can't keep up with that but it is a great time of year in Tighnabruaich with a fantastic Ceilidh on the 1st in the evening which is really worth saving yourself for. Christmas is so fantastic here, relaxed and peaceful, an outstanding place to be with your family. Call now for availability. 01700 811464 Not many places left!!!

GETTING ALL ARTY IN THE KYLES

There is a wealth of things to do, places to visit and the scenery which, all by itself, is constantly changing with the weather to provide the most spectacular backdrop. Even if you have never tried before you will find yourself wondering if you could, just might, be able to capture it all on paper so go on, have a go! Get out those long forgotten paints, brushes and drawing pencils and get sketching. If you can't quite get it right then what about taking your camera out for a stroll? There are so many breath taking views, so much wildlife around and there is always the endless lure of the ever changing water and its effect on the light just begging to be captured on film.

We plan to open a page on the website for your photos so e-mail your best to us at margo@Holidays-Argyll.co.uk and we will set up a gallery.

Feedback

We are here to guide our home owners to give you a better holiday but, to continue to improve the homes, we do need your feedback on the changes and improvements you really want. Your holiday experience is important to us and we would welcome your comments on not only our service but also that of the area in general, and including the local cafés and restaurants. With this information we can tailor our business to better serve you. We will be leaving forms in all our properties which we would ask you to complete. Your thoughts and comments are essential to enable us to improve. All completed entries will be entered into a draw for a case of wine to be drawn on 30th September 2007. Good Luck!
